Adopted by Council 12th July 2022

Preamble

General

- A. This is the code of conduct adopted by St. Anne's on the Sea Town Council under section 27(2) of the Localism Act 2011. It consists of this preamble, general principles, code obligations and explanatory information.
- B. In this document:
- “the code” means this code of conduct
- “councillor” means anybody who the code applies to, including both councillors and co-opted members
- “local authority” means St. Anne's on the Sea Town Council
- C. The general principles set out what the code is intended to achieve and provide the context for the code obligations. The code obligations set out what councillors must or must not do when the code applies to them. The explanatory information gives guidance and examples about how the code obligations should be understood and applied.

Scope

- D. The code applies to elected councillors from when they sign their declaration of acceptance of the office of councillor and co-opted members from when they attend their first meeting and continues to apply until they cease to be in office.
- E. The code obligations apply when councillors are acting in their capacity as a councillor which includes when they:
- misuse their position as a councillor
 - give the impression that they are acting as a councillor or
 - act as a representative of the council on another body.
- F. The code applies to all forms of communication and interaction, including:
- face-to-face meetings
 - online or telephone meetings
 - written communication
 - verbal communication
 - non-verbal communication and
 - electronic and social media communication, posts, statements and comments.

Sanctions

Failure to comply with the provisions of this Code may result in a sanction being imposed:

- by the council (if it relates to the Code itself or a personal/prejudicial interest); or
- through criminal proceedings (if it relates to a Disclosable Pecuniary Interest which may result in a criminal conviction and a fine up to £5,000 and/ or disqualification from office for a period of up to five years).

General principles

Everyone in public office at all levels; all who serve the public or deliver public services, including ministers, civil servants, councillors and local authority officers; should uphold the Seven Principles of Public Life, also known as the Nolan Principles (see Appendix 1).

Building on these principles, the following general principles have been developed specifically for the role of councillor.

In accordance with the public trust placed in me, on all occasions:

- I act with integrity and honesty
- I act lawfully
- I treat all persons fairly and with respect; and
- I lead by example and act in a way that secures public confidence in the role of councillor.

In undertaking my role:

- I impartially exercise my responsibilities in the interests of the local community
- I do not improperly seek to confer an advantage, or disadvantage, on any person
- I avoid conflicts of interest
- I exercise reasonable care and diligence; and
- I ensure that public resources are used prudently in accordance with my local authority's requirements and in the public interest.

You are also expected to uphold high standards of conduct and lead by example when acting as a councillor.

The Monitoring Officer at Fylde Borough Council has statutory responsibility for the implementation of the Code of Conduct. St Anne's Town Councillors are encouraged to seek advice from the Town Clerk in the first instance, who may refer matters to the Monitoring Officer.

Code obligations and explanatory information

1. Respect

Code obligation:

1.1 You must treat all others with respect

Explanatory information:

Respect means politeness and courtesy in behaviour, speech, and in the written word. Debate and having different views are all part of a healthy democracy. As a councillor, you can express, challenge, criticise and disagree with views, ideas, opinions and policies in a robust but civil manner. You should not, however, subject individuals, groups of people or organisations to personal attack.

In your contact with the public, you should treat them politely and courteously. Rude and offensive behaviour lowers the public's expectations and confidence in councillors. In return, you have a right to expect respectful behaviour from the public. If members of the public are being abusive, intimidatory or threatening you are entitled to stop any conversation or interaction in person or online and report them to any relevant authority. This also applies to fellow councillors, where action could then be taken under the code, and local authority employees, where concerns should be raised in line with the local authority's councillor/officer protocol. The principle behind this section is that you should treat others how you would want to be treated yourself.

2. Bullying, harassment and discrimination

Code obligations:

2.1 You must not bully any person

2.2 You must not harass any person

2.3 You must promote equalities and not discriminate unlawfully against any person

2.4 You must not do anything which would breach or cause your local authority to breach the provisions of Equality Act 2010.

Explanatory information:

The Advisory, Conciliation and Arbitration Service (ACAS) characterises bullying as offensive, intimidating, malicious or insulting behaviour, an abuse or misuse of power through means that undermine, humiliate, denigrate or injure the recipient. Bullying might be a regular pattern of behaviour or a one-off incident, happen face-to-face, on social media, in emails or phone calls, happen in the workplace or at work social events and may not always be obvious or noticed by others.

The Protection from Harassment Act 1997 defines harassment as conduct that causes alarm or distress or puts people in fear of violence and must involve such conduct on at least two occasions. It can include repeated attempts to impose unwanted communications and contact upon a person in a manner that could be expected to cause distress or fear in any reasonable person.

Unlawful discrimination is where someone is treated unfairly because of a protected characteristic. Protected characteristics are specific aspects of a person's identity defined by the Equality Act 2010. They are age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex and sexual orientation. The Equality Act 2010 places specific duties on local authorities. Councillors have a central role to play in ensuring that equality issues are integral to the local authority's performance and strategic aims, and that there is a strong vision and public commitment to equality across public services.

3. Impartiality of officers of the council

Code obligation:

3.1 You must not compromise, or attempt to compromise, the impartiality of anyone who works for, or on behalf of, the local authority.

Explanatory information:

Officers work for the local authority as a whole and must be politically neutral (unless they are political assistants). They should not be coerced or persuaded to act in a way that would undermine their neutrality. You can question officers to understand, for example, their reasons for proposing to act in a particular way, or the content of a report that they have written. However, you must not try and force them to act differently, change their advice, or alter the content of that report, if doing so would prejudice their professional integrity.

4. Confidentiality and access to information

Code obligation:

4.1 You must not disclose confidential information except where:

- You have the consent of the person authorised to give it
- You are required by the law to do so
- You disclose the information to a third party for the purpose of obtaining professional advice provided that the third party agrees not to disclose the information to any other person
- You make the disclosure in good faith, and in compliance with the reasonable requirements of the authority, in the public interest

4.2 You must not do anything which would breach or cause you or your local authority to breach the provisions of the Data Protection Act 2018.

Explanatory information:

Local authorities must work openly and transparently, and their proceedings and printed materials are open to the public, except in certain legally defined circumstances. You should work on this basis, but there will be times when it is required by law that discussions, documents and other information relating to or held by the local authority must be treated in a confidential manner, for example if it relates to individuals or ongoing negotiations.

5. Disrepute

Code obligation:

5.1 You must not bring your role or local authority into disrepute.

Explanatory information:

As a Councillor, you are trusted to make decisions on behalf of your community and your actions and behaviour are subject to greater scrutiny than that of ordinary members of the public. You should be aware that your actions might have an adverse impact on you, other councillors or your local authority and may lower the public's confidence in you or your local authority's ability to discharge your/its functions. For example, behaviour that is considered dishonest or deceitful can bring your local authority into disrepute.

You are able to hold the local authority and fellow councillors to account and are able to constructively challenge and express concern about decisions and processes undertaken by the council whilst continuing to adhere to other aspects of the code.

6. Use of position

Code obligation:

6.1 You must not use, or attempt to use, you position improperly to the advantage or disadvantage of yourself or anyone else.

6.2 You must have regard to the obligations of your local authority under the Code of Recommended Practice on Local Authority Publicity made under the Local Government Act 1986.

Explanatory information:

Your position as a member of the local authority provides you with certain opportunities, responsibilities, and privileges, and you make choices all the time that will impact others. However, you should not take advantage of these opportunities to further your own or others' private interests or to disadvantage anyone unfairly.

You should also have regard to the Code of Recommended Practice on Local Authority Publicity, which requires that publicity issued by local authorities should be objective and even handed.

7. Use of local authority resources and facilities

Code obligation:

7.1 When using the council's resources, you must do so in accordance with the authority's requirements and ensure that resources are not used improperly (including improperly for political purposes)

Explanatory information:

You may be provided with resources and facilities by the local authority to assist you in carrying out your duties as a councillor.

Examples include:

- office support
- stationery
- equipment such as phones, and computers
- transport
- access and use of local authority buildings and rooms.

These are given to you to help you carry out your role as a councillor more effectively and are not to be used for business or personal gain. They should be used in accordance with the purpose for which they have been provided and the local authority's own policies regarding their use.

8. Decision Making

Code obligations:

8.1 You must have regard when reaching decisions, to advice provided to you by the Town Clerk or Monitoring Officer when they are acting in accordance with their statutory duties.

Explanatory information:

You should have regard to the advice of the statutory officers mentioned above and take this into account, even if you choose not to follow it. If you choose not to follow the advice, you should be able to provide reasons for not doing so.

9. Complying with the Code of Conduct

Code obligations:

9.1 You must undertake all relevant training about the code provided by your local authority.

9.2 You must cooperate with any investigation or other procedure carried out by your local authority in connection with an allegation of a breach of the code.

9.3 You must not intimidate or attempt to intimidate any person who is likely to be involved with the administration of any investigation or procedure in connection with an allegation of a breach of the code.

9.4 You must comply with any sanction imposed on you following a finding that you have breached the code.

Explanatory information:

It is extremely important for you as a councillor to demonstrate high standards, for you to have your actions open to scrutiny and for you not to undermine public trust in the local authority or its governance. If you do not understand or are concerned about the local authority's processes in handling a complaint you should raise this with your Monitoring Officer.

10. Interests

Code obligations:

10.1 You must register and disclose your disclosable pecuniary interests as required by law

10.2 You must register and disclose your personal and prejudicial interests as required by appendix 3

Explanatory information:

Section 29 of the Localism Act 2011 requires the Monitoring Officer to establish and maintain a register of interests of members of the authority.

You need to register your interests so that the public, local authority employees and fellow councillors know which of your interests might give rise to a conflict of interest. The register is a public document that can be consulted when (or before) an issue arises. The register also protects you by allowing you to demonstrate openness and a willingness to be held accountable.

You are personally responsible for deciding whether you should disclose an interest in a meeting, but it can be helpful for you to know early on if others think that a potential conflict might arise. It is also important that the public know about any interest that might have to be disclosed by you or other councillors when making or taking part in decisions, so that decision making is seen by the public as open and honest. This helps to ensure that public confidence in the integrity of local governance is maintained.

Disclosable pecuniary interests (sometimes called 'DPIs') are set out in law by the Localism Act 2011 and the Relevant Authorities (Disclosable Pecuniary Interests) Regulations 2012. Appendix 2 describes the provisions about disclosable pecuniary interests.

Appendix 3 is the part of the code that sets out the detailed provisions about personal and prejudicial interests that apply to councillors.

You must comply with the rules in appendix 2 and appendix 3, where they apply. If in doubt, you should always seek advice from your Town Clerk or Monitoring Officer.

11. Gifts and hospitality

Code obligations:

11.1 You should exercise caution in accepting gifts or hospitality in circumstances where a reasonable person would conclude that the gift or hospitality was given to you because you are a councillor, or because of any role or position that you hold in the council or a political group, unless the value of the gift or hospitality is trivial.

11.2 You should exercise caution in accepting gifts or hospitality in circumstances where a reasonable person would suspect that the person giving the gift or hospitality is a person seeking to do business with the council or who may be considering applying to the council for any permission, licence or other significant advantage.

11.3 You must register with the Town Clerk any gift or hospitality with an estimated value of at least £25 within 28 days of its receipt.

Explanatory information:

In order to protect your position and the reputation of the local authority, you should exercise caution in accepting any gifts or hospitality which are (or which you reasonably believe to be) offered to you because you are a councillor. The presumption should always be not to accept significant gifts or hospitality. However, there may be times when such a refusal may be difficult if it is seen as rudeness in which case you could accept it but must ensure it is publicly registered and the reason for acceptance is given. However, you do not need to register gifts and hospitality which are not related to your role as a councillor, such as Christmas gifts from your friends and family. It is also important to note that it is appropriate to accept normal expenses and hospitality associated with your duties as a councillor. If you are unsure, do contact your Town Clerk for guidance. A record of hospitality accepted by the Mayor is recorded by his/her secretary in the diary of events. However, any gifts offered to the Mayor during the course of his/her duties should be recorded.

Appendix 1 – The Seven Principles of Public Life (the ‘Nolan’ principles)

Selflessness

Holders of public office should act solely in terms of the public interest.

Integrity

Holders of public office must avoid placing themselves under any obligation to people or organisations that might try inappropriately to influence them in their work. They should not act or take decisions in order to gain financial or other material benefits for themselves, their family, or their friends. They must declare and resolve any interests and relationships.

Objectivity

Holders of public office must act and take decisions impartially, fairly and on merit, using the best evidence and without discrimination or bias.

Accountability

Holders of public office are accountable to the public for their decisions and actions and must submit themselves to the scrutiny necessary to ensure this.

Openness

Holders of public office should act and take decisions in an open and transparent manner. Information should not be withheld from the public unless there are clear and lawful reasons for so doing.

Honesty

Holders of public office should be truthful.

Leadership

Holders of public office should exhibit these principles in their own behaviour. They should actively promote and robustly support the principles and be willing to challenge poor behaviour wherever it occurs.

A3.1.2 You must:

- (i) Notify the Monitoring Officer (via the Town Clerk) in writing within 28 days of becoming a member, or within 28 days of any change or becoming aware of any existence of a personal interest set out in paragraph A3.1.1 (ii) and (iii) above.

A3.2.1 Your personal interests would become prejudicial in the following instances:

- (i) Where a member of the public with knowledge of the relevant facts would reasonably regard as so significant that it is likely to prejudice your judgment of the public interest AND where that business:
 - (a) affects your financial position or the financial position of a person or body through whom the interest arises or
